Other News of Note

Three members of the Winslow Public Library staff have achieved certification through the Maine State Library Voluntary Public Librarian Certification Program. Amy Goldstein, Library Assistant, was recently awarded a Basic Certificate and Samantha Cote, Youth Services and Technology Librarian was recently awarded an Advanced Certificate. They join Library Director Pam Bonney, who earned an Advanced Certificate last winter. This certification program has been developed by the Maine State Library to meet the needs of Maine's library staff for ongoing training so they may provide dynamic professional library service. It is a three level voluntary certification program comprised of online courses, archived webinars, workshops and special institutes.

Our library was among several chosen by the Maine State Library's early literacy consultant to receive a large collection of Legos for our newly formed after school Lego club. The Legos were provided by the American Library Association's Library Services to Children Division.
